CORE WORK

Its very important when you are training for a run you also work on strengthening your core, this will create all round toning but most importantly will increase strength therefore reducing the chance of injury

Pilates classes are excellent for this. Here is one routine below but there are many great routines that work on core.

Core sessions should be minimum of 30 mins

Buy light weights and use 12 reps per exercise. This should be difficult but not impossible, increase or decrease the weights depending on this.

Stand with legs slightly apart and knees relaxed, lift weights to chest and then above head lie on back and put weights together and push away from chest and back

Sit ups 15 situps straight up, only lift slightly off ground, chin away from chest, hold and down slowly

15 to the right knee, 15 to left knee

Plank for 40 secs

Push up (knees on floor if needed) 15

Burpees 20

Do all this twice

SKIPPING

Skipping, it is important to get your heart rate up now and again to its highest level (check with doctor and use a heart monitor to know what his should be)

Skip 50 at a time, rest. By the end of week 8 this should be 100 at a time

You should skip for a minimum of 10 mins at a time.
